November and December programs for adults at the Berkley Public Library

BERKLEY, MI (October 28, 2014) – The following programs for adults will take place at the Berkley Public Library in November and December.

Lost Detroit: Stories Behind the Motor City's Majestic Ruins

Monday, November 10 at 6:30 p.m.

Sean Doerr, author of Lost Detroit: Stories Behind the Motor City's Majestic Ruins will share his architectural knowledge and photography of Detroit's architecture inside and out: from the infamous abandoned train station, to the fully restored and vibrant Guardian Building. The audience is encouraged to ask questions and share memories that will drive the lecture and discussion. Book sale and signing to follow. Please call 248-658-3440 or stop by the Adult reference desk to register for this free program.

Learn the Art of Origami

Monday, November 17 at 6:30 p.m.

Come explore the basics of origami. You will learn in a group and share in a project. Origami instills many life skills, to name a few: Dexterity, patience, precision, challenge and accomplishment, failure and perseverance, finesse, focus. In its many forms teaches us, it amuses and makes us smile. Life is more fun when explored through art and creativity. Materials provided. Please call 248-658-3440 or stop by the Adult reference desk to register for this free program.

Sears Homes of Berkley

Tuesday, December 9 at 6:30 p.m.

Please join Sears kit house owners and enthusiasts Andrew and Wendy Mutch as they explore the fascinating history of kit and catalog houses. Hear tips on how to identify kit homes, see examples from vintage catalogs and take a photographic tour of over 30 kit homes found in Berkley from Sears and other kit home manufacturers. Please call 248-658-3440 or stop by the Adult reference desk to register for this free program.
