March programs for adults at the Berkley Public Library

BERKLEY, MI (March 10, 2015) – The following programs for adults will take place at the Berkley Public Library in March.

Drying Up Your Home's Wet Basement

Presented by Ron Gay, Wet Basement Consultants & author
Monday, March 23 at 6:30 p.m.

Is a wet basement putting a damper on your spring fun? Ron Gay will present a free homeowner's workshop. Ron will explain the 10 things a homeowner should know about wet basements and how to fix problems at the cause – without using expensive waterproofing systems. Ron is a consultant, author, licensed builder and has been consulting on homeowner issues for over 25 years. Please call 248-658-3440 or stop by the Adult reference desk to register for this free program.

Selma and the Voting Rights

Lecture by Dr. Roy E. Finkenbine of the University of Detroit Mercy
Tuesday, March 24 at 6:30 p.m.

The current film Selma has generated quite a box-office buzz. But fifty years ago Selma was the name of a racially-divided Alabama town at the heart of a civil rights campaign that stirred millions of people throughout the world. It culminated in the Voting Rights Act, changing forever the landscape of American democracy. This talk will explore that story and tell how Selma is still instructive for the racial dilemmas of post-Ferguson America. Please call 248-658-3440 or stop by the Adult reference desk to register for this free program.
