Cool Cars at the Berkley Public Library

BERKLEY, MI (August 11, 2015) – August is all about cars in metro Detroit as the Dream Cruise takes over Woodward Avenue. Join us on Tuesday, August 18 at 6:30 p.m. at the Berkley Public Library for a car talk by Adam Lovell, Curator of Collection for the Detroit Historical Society. He will be sharing stories and details about the DHS’s expansive historical vehicle collection.

The Detroit Historical Society has a collection of more than 70 historic automobiles ranging from personal cars of auto barons—such as the Dodge brothers, Henry Leland, Lee Iacocca, and Henry Joy—to rarely seen concept and experimental cars that boggle the mind. This presentation will unfold the stories behind these unique vehicles and show their place in automotive history. Learn what museums do to preserve and document historic vehicles to ensure they are available for future generations to experience.

“In addition to this talk, all three of our display cases have been filled with automobile models and automotive memorabilia from the Detroit Historical Society’s collection. I’m really delighted that Mr. Lovell, a Berkley resident, brought the displays and his talk to the library,” said Matt Church, library director.

The Berkley Public Library is located at 3155 Coolidge Highway in Berkley. For additional information, call 248-658-3440 or visit www.berkley.lib.mi.us. You can find us on Facebook at www.facebook.com/BerkleyPublicLibrary.
