November programs at the Berkley Public Library

BERKLEY, MI (October 28, 2015) – Several programs will be taking place at the Berkley Public Library in November.

The Secrets of Abu Ghraib Revealed: American Soldiers on Trial

Monday, November 9 at 6:30 p.m.

The prisoner abuse, and the photographs that seared it in our national consciousness, was a major turning point in the war in Iraq and the beginning of our country's debate about interrogations and torture in the larger war on terror. Chris Graveline is one of only six people who have complete knowledge of the Abu Ghraib investigation and prosecutions. Chris will discuss the details of what occurred at the now infamous prison, the subsequent investigation, and the broader policy implications these events had and continue to have on US foreign policy. Chris Graveline was the Army prosecutor involved in the major criminal prosecutions stemming from the Abu Ghraib scandal. To register, visit <http://goo.gl/2oHwbP> or call 248-658-3440.

To Kill a Mockingbird* Screening
